WE NOMINATE

David Aloysius McCabe, one of the first American economists to concentrate on studies of labor organizations, labor legislation and the whole process of collective bargaining, who this month at age 69 retires from the University Faculty upon completing 43 years of what a former student describes as "inspirational, yet down-to-earth teaching." A Harvard classmate of one United States President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, and hired on first sight in 1909 by a second Chief Executive, Thomas Woodrow Wilson, McCabe has combined a brilliant academic career with distinguished public service.

Long before the term "brain-truster" had come into popular usage, McCabe, a native of Providence, R. I., had assisted governmental departments and officers in a variety of ways. His first post-college job was as a special agent for the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction for Ireland. Before World War I he directed researches for the U. S. Industrial Relations Commission and 20 years later headed the Regional Labor Board in New Jersey. Between 1941 and 1946 he was associated with four key national agencies, including the National War Labor Board, and in 1947 was a representative at the first UNESCO Conference in this country.

Campus anecdotes about McCabe, one of Princeton's top lecturers and a former chairman of the Department of Economics and Social Institutions, are legion. Some years back it was often said that "McCabe" and "Brass Tacks" were synonymous terms in the University, for McCabe's dislike of big words laid on the surface. In proving this particular point about McCabe, Green Professor of Economics since 1938, the Princeton Alumni Weekly reported: "After the School of Science fire of 1928, when people spoke darkly about incendiarism, McCabe said; 'Incendiarism nothing; somebody set it on fire'."

Known to hundreds of Princetonians as "Shorty," McCabe was called here from Johns Hopkins where he had taken his doctorate after three years of teaching at the Catholic University of America. During World War I he directed military studies in the Princeton Aviation School and in 1919 was advanced to a full professorship. McCabe, all of whose published works have been concerned with industrial relations problems, has also been a "teachers' teacher" throughout his Princeton decades and has probably helped develop more outstanding teachers than any other faculty member of his time.

For entering upon another phase of his life with the spirit, understanding and enthusiasm that made him Princeton's "Shorty" McCabe; for insisting that in all things sponged-up opinions and facts are poor substitutes for informed judgments; for his signal contributions in his chosen spheres; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

No Fair. Just about anything that had been said about the weather in recent weeks could be substantiated by the statistics. For example, of the 61 days that comprise April and May, exactly 12 of them produced fair weather. The others were either cloudy or rainy, and there were no less than 26 of the latter.

As much as anything else, it was the order in which bad days came that caused the greatest frustration: of the nine weekends since April 1, only Saturday and Sunday, May 3 and 4, were marked by sunshine. On the long Memorial Day holiday, when the sun poked its face tentatively from behind a black cloud bank just before it set Sunday evening, one disgusted soul remarked, "Well, the weekend's over—it's stopped raining."

Saturday and Sunday brought nearly half the normal rainfall for the month of May, raising the total for the month to a good six inches. April, too, was nearly double the average precipitation.

Looking ahead, the weather man still couldn't see a totally dry weekend. For Sunday, he predicted "possible showers;" the best he would promise the bedraggled public was that "it won't rain steadily the way it did last weekend."

Wallace to Run Alone. The Democratic party will not be represented in Princeton township on the election ballot next fall. Ned V. Joy, instructor in politics at Princeton University, had been nominated in the primaries but will leave shortly to make his home in the Far West.

Reasons of health necessitate Mr. Joy's departure from Princeton. Accordingly, John H. Wallace Jr., who was the victor in the hotly-contested Republican primary last April, will be automatically returned to office for another three years, barring the remote possibility of a write-in campaign. Such a development is not anticipated.

Higher Interest Rate on Savings. The First National Bank announced this week that, effective July 1, interest paid on compound interest accounts will be computed at the rate of two percent annually on balances up to $10,000. It will be credited and compounded semi-annually.

The bank will continue to pay interest at one percent on the amount of the balance over $10,000. This rate will also apply to special time deposits of businesses and corporations.

In a community in which thrift had always been a basic measure of success, it was a timely, added incentive to plan for the future.

Lions Install Officers. Robert Mangold has been installed as president of the Princeton Lions Club for the next 12 months. District Governor George Kovacs of Fords, N. J. officiated at the ceremonies in the Nassau Tavern.

Named to serve with him are Chester Page, first vice-president; Arnold Pierson, second vice-president; Edgar Holland, third vice-president; Thomas Rowland, immediate past president; Martin Mains, secretary; Fred Lehnert, treasurer; Theos Cronk, Lion Tamer; Warren Froelich, Tail Twister; David Burroughs, Fred Crandall, Edward Baldwin and Paul Alford, directors.

The Lions have presented uniforms to the safety patrols of the Nassau Street, Valley Road and St. Paul's Schools. Patrolman Frank Bird of the borough police department and Lieutenant James Campbell of the township police were present when the new outfits were made available.

Diploma Days. Commencement activities are a major part of the June calendar in this educational center. Monday night at 8:15, Princeton Country Day School will hold its 28th annual exercises, with Headmaster Henry B. Ross presenting diplomas and prizes to a graduating class of 15.

John H. Wallace, Jr., chairman of the board of trustees, will preside, and James C. Sayen, head of the alumni association, will present a memorial plaque to the school honoring its seven former students who died in line of duty during World War II. The Rev. Dr. Robert R. Wicks will give the address to the graduating class.

Members of the senior class are Peter Bauer, E. Thomas Cain, 2d, Edward F. D'Arms, Jr., Charles S. Green, 3d, James R. Hillier, Philip D. Kopper, Rensselaer W. Lee, 3d, Clement F. Pease, Arthur V. Shannon, Jr., Theodore L. Shear, Jr., Sherwood M. Smith, Laurence C. Ward, 3d, Timothy E. Ward and John C. Wellemeyer, all of Princeton; and Thomas A. Kerr, Jr. of Jamesburg.

Princeton Theological Seminary conferred 128 degrees, the largest in its history, Tuesday at its 140th commencement exercises, which took place in the University Chapel. The Rev. John R. Bodo, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was among the recipients of the degree of doctor of theology.

The Seminary also took the occasion to announce that its $900,000 student center, now nearing completion on the campus, will be ready for use in September. Dining room and auditorium of the spacious building will each seat 400.

Re-elected treasurer of the alumni association was the Rev. Dr. Charles R. Erdman of 20 Library Place. (For other news of Dr. Erdman, see picture, page 5.)

Hun School awarded diplomas to a class of 16 on Friday. Recipients from the Princeton area included Ronald H. Baker, Ridgeview Road; Michael F. Carnevale, 103 Linden Lane; Warren W. Foster, Prospect Avenue Extension; Myron E. LaVake, 3d, Ewing Road; and Girard Poirier, Griggstown. Poirier won the school prize for proficiency in history, while Clifford Luther of Plainsboro shared in the Kuschke Medal for outstanding participation in non-scheduled extra-curricular activities.

Top honors at the exercises went to a member of the senior class

It's New to Us

Modern But Mellow. A lot of people who appreciate the lines of contemporary furniture shy away from it because so much modern is made of light or bleached wood. "It looks cold," they tell you.

If you know anyone like this, or if you feel the same way yourself, you'll want to look at the Whitney Now-A-Day maple they have at Nassau Interiors, 162 Nassau Street. The furniture is featured, incidentally, in the current issue of Living for Young Homemakers. In that magazine, it's shown in both contemporary and early American settings, and you could use it either way, yourself.

You see, this furniture is actually based on traditional forms, although it's strictly modern in appearance. Ever see any of the very old Shaker furniture, plain and functional as a matchstick? Well, Now-A-Day looks like that. It's deep honey in color, warm and tawny, with conservative lines that will still be good 20 years from now.

For example, a little server is absolutely plain without a line or a curve on its two-door front. The legs are short and round, and two lines running around each leg provide the only ornamentation. Put an antique milk pitcher on top, or a free-form bowl with abstract design. Each would be equally at home.

By the way, the doors on this server have no locks and no catches. Twu-strong magnets inside the bottom shelf pull the doors shut and keep them from swaying open. Wait'll your kids discover that one.

Other pieces include chests of drawers and bookcases, all with flush sides so the pieces can be lined up side by side. There's a headboard, a large drop-leaf table, modernized captain's chairs, and even one upholstered chair. Prices are in the moderate group.

To go underneath, why not experiment with an all-linen braided rug? If you think of braided rugs in terms of grandma and strips of old flannel underwear—well, this is quite different. One of the rugs is braided in deep yellow, gold, black and grey. It would strike a dramatic note in any modern room.

Oval, round or broadloom according to your choice, these rugs are moth proof (ever hear of a moth eating a linen napkin?) fire-resistant, washable, in the widest variety of colors your palette could think of. Prices from $7.35 for a two-by-three, to $263.25 for a 12 by 18.

If you've walked past Nassau Interiors lately you've probably noticed that canvas lawn chair. Tubular aluminum frame has a taut green or terra-cotta canvas cover. Sit down in it. Pleasant. Tip way back — way back, we mean — and you find yourself with feet higher than head in a position infinitely restful after a hot day. (You won't really fall over backwards, but it does sound that way.)

DR. AND MRS. ERDMAN OBSERVE 60TH ANNIVERSARY

Sons and daughters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren were present Sunday when Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Erdman of 20 Library Place celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. He is a former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and taught at the Theological Seminary for 30 years. Mrs. Erdman is the former Estelle Pardee of Philadelphia.

who will enter Princeton next fall. Jon E. Courtney, a resident of Trenton, won four awards, including the Headmaster's Prize as the school's highest ranking student for the second year in a row.

"Farewell" Appearance A "farewell to Princeton" lecture is scheduled for popular Professor Walter P. "Buzzer" Hall next Friday, June 13, in Alexander Hall. He will speak as part of the reunion program of the class of 1942, and the occasion will be open to the public.

Professor Hall's topic will be "God and Man and Academic Freedom." He will be heard at 4:30.

Group Arts Elections. William B. Bretnall has been re-elected as chairman of the board of trustees of Princeton Group Arts. Albert E. Hinds and Mrs. Robert W. Woods, Jr. will continue to serve as vice-chairman and secretary, respectively.

Jerome Kurshan is the organization's new treasurer, while those named as trustees include Mrs. Fred Burrell, Mrs. John Lindberg, Mrs. Edward Morehouse, Mrs. John B. Nelson and Mrs. David Taylor. Miss Alice Braveman and Dr. J. Kendall Wallis will continue on the board.

Rex Gorebeigh, Group Arts' executive director, was honored at its first annual dinner meeting. The trustees presented him with a watch in appreciation of his five years of energetic and efficient direction of the organization.

Traffic Problem Eased. Shore-bound motorists this summer will find that one long-accepted but always-annoying traffic delay has virtually vanished. Drawbridges on heavily-traveled highways are unlikely to be raised with any degree of frequency, an achievement expected to eliminate the long lines of automobiles waiting bumper to bumper in the hot sun.

News of the Theatres

THE McCARTER

Mac West will open the Princeton Summer Theatre season in the McCarter on June 23 in a double entendre that is gauged to fool no one. Entitled "Sextette," the comedy will have its premiere here and will run throughout the week.

Frances Hope is the author of the play, a three-act production with a single set—the bridal suite of a lush London hotel. The principal supporting role in a cast of seven is that of Miss West's husband, who discovers only after his marriage that he is the most recent in her sextette of spouses.

Miss West is billed as ready "to sing and wear a lavish wardrobe, including one costume made entirely of sequins." Her first appearance in summer stock, made here last summer, set McCarter attendance records.

BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

Lady in the Dark will open this Friday night in the Bucks County Playhouse at New Hope, Pa., and run through June 21. Matinees are scheduled Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Kitty Carlisle will have the leading role in this musical, which first ran on Broadway a dozen years ago and drew standees to each of its 467 performances. First play to use a pattern of dream sequences successfully, it traces the business and love life of Liza Elliott, a career woman who turns to psychoanalysis for a solution to her romantic difficulties.

Moss Hart, well-known playwright, is the author; music is by Kurt Weill and lyrics by Ira Gershwin. The play's popularity has necessitated its presentation for two and a half weeks,, first time in the 12 seasons that Theron Bamberger has operated the Bucks County Playhouse that a production has been scheduled for a run of such length. Tickets by mail, telephone (New Hope 3541) and the box office.

MUSIC CIRCUS

A nine-day stand of "Blossom Time" will open the Music Circus at Lambertville Saturday night. The production will run through June 15, and will be followed (from June 17 to 22) by "The Firefly."

THE PLAYHOUSE

Skirts Ahoy (Thurs.-Sat.) is Esther Williams' latest musical, which means it is a languidly-paced picture that devotes a fair share of its time to letting Miss Williams give swimming exhibitions. The story traces the romantic desires of three WAVES (Joan Evans and Vivian Blaine are the other two), and leans heavily on the ability of numerous guest artists: Billy Eckstein, Debbie Reynolds, Bobby Van, Keenan Wynn and others.

Kangaroo (Sun.-Tues.), first Hollywood picture made in Australia, offers a routine plot and a good deal of out-of-the-ordinary photography. Set in the bush country, the story traces the enmity of two men (Peter Lawford and Richard Boone) and their adventures in a flight from justice. Interwoven with this action are a herd of kangaroos stampeding in terror, a raging bush fire, and ranchers and cattle caught in the ravages of a parching drought. Picturesquely told in Technicolor.

Scaramouche (Wed.-Sat.), latest version of Rafael Sabatini's color-

Two factors are responsible for this seemingly insurmountable problem. Boat owners in the past have signalled for a bridge opening whether or not it was necessary, solely because they did not know the height of their craft or the bridge clearance above the water, or both. To play safe, they asked for the opening and the traffic piled up.

State highway officials thereupon installed bridge gauges and required the owners to become familiar with their boats' measurements. That proved to be part of the battle.

Problem two was curtailment in some fashion of various outriggers, high antennae or military masts extending above a boat's superstructure. Once this equipment was hinged, so that it could be lowered at will, much of the remaining necessity for bridge-openings was removed.

The educational campaign among boatmen, started last year, had its effect before Labor Day. This summer, bridge openings and resultant traffic delays are expected to be reduced from their peak of recent years by as much as 80 percent.

Miscellany. Mrs. Henry Fallon will be installed as president of the St. Paul's School Parent-Teacher Association Friday night at 8 at its final meeting of the year. She succeeds Mrs. James Cramer.

Mrs. Cramer will take office as first vice-president. Others to serve in 1952-53 are Mrs. Reuben Johnson, second vice-president; Mrs. John McNally, third vice-president; Mrs. Thomas Brophy, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Stemmle, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Jennings, treasurer.

Daughters have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Hyter, 13 Quarry Street; Mr. and Mrs. Aristide Armonia, 283 Witherspoon Street; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Griggs, 16 Leigh Avenue.

Princeton Post No. 76, American Legion, has cancelled its paper collections for June, July and August, but will resume the monthly drives in September. The volume of paper made available during the summer in other years has not warranted year-round collections, the Legion reports.

A Kingston resident, Anderson F. Morton, was fined a total of $45 for ignoring four separate motor vehicle violations. Magistrate Paul R. Chesebro charged him $2 for over-

SPORTS IN PRINCETON

Traditional Series. Princeton's baseball team, unable to beat Yale at New Haven for the past three years despite three straight first-place finishes in the Eastern League, will go against the Elis there Saturday. Dave Sisler, the loser by a 2-1 margin to the Blue last spring, is the pick.

The Bulldogs are in the throes of one of their worst seasons, and are currently far below the .500 mark. Regardless of their record, however, it will be a worthwhile achievement for the Tigers if they can top their traditional rivals this weekend and next.

Last Saturday's clash with Rutgers, postponed to Wednesday because of rain, was scheduled to be Captain Ray Chirurgi's last start. Sisler (a good bet for the District Two all-star team) will pitch this weekend, with Harry Brightman scheduled to take on Yale in the last game of his Princeton career. As a sophomore, he whitewashed the Elis, 11-0, in the commencement games of 1950.

Taylor Wins Title. Buzz Taylor broad jumped 24 feet, 3½ inches Saturday to win the IC4-A title in this event in the 50th annual meet at Randall's Island. He dethroned the defending champion, Cornell's Meredith Gourdine, and may follow his father as a member of the U. S. Olympic team this year. The elder Taylor represented this country in the broad jump in 1924, '28 and '32.

No other Princetonians placed in the IC4-A meet. Len Lyons, Tobey Maxwell and Al Pittis had been figured to finish in the first five in the shot, mile and two mile, respectively. Al Rauch ran a 1:53.4 half mile but missed qualifying by a stride. He has Olympic ambitions in the 400 meter hurdles and will enter the trials in California at the end of June.

P.H.S. Track Team Keeps Title. Princeton High School's powerladen track team won the Central Jersey Group III title at Asbury Park Tuesday for the fifth year in a row, drubbing half a dozen other entries in a meet postponed by Saturday's rain. The final count gave Coach Irwin Weiss' Little Tigers 91⅓ points to 40½ for Long Branch and 36 for North Plainfield and no others within hailing distance.

Eight meet records were set, seven of them by the Blue and White. Jim Varner, Clyde Thomas and Tom Perks were each credited with two of them and Charles Streater established the other.

erino's last week gave them a commanding lead in the American Softball League. The big win was a 7-3 triumph over the Nassau Jonnnies, and they also topped Oldis Movers, 13-5, and the Sportsmen's Club, 8-5.

Organizational troubles beset the once-powerful Phantoms, who forfeited a game to the Sportsmen, 7-0, and are now next to last in the league with a 1-3 mark. The standings as of Monday: Cenerinos, 6-0; Nassau Johnnies, 4-1; Oldis Movers and Sportsmen, each 2-3; Phantoms, 1-3; University Laundry & Cleaners, 0-5.

The game scheduled for next Tuesday evening between RCA and the Nassau Social Club will play a big part in the early-season standings in the National League. The two have not yet met, and as of the first of this week, RCA was 3-0 and the Social Club 2-0. ETS 1, Heyden Chemical and AVC followed, with ETS 2, Jugtown and ORC trailing. Closest contest last week was the 6-5 win for AVC over Heyden Chemical that went into two extra innings. The leaders maintained their pace, RCA conquering ETS 1, 12-3, and the Nassau Social Club blanking ORC, 11-0.

Kings Inn, which thumped Coans Clubbers, 10-1, last Thursday, leads the Girls League. The Gulf Station, surprise loser to ETS by a 10-3 count, and Coans follow, each with 2-1 marks. Peresett Appliance (7-6 over Veterans Taxi last week) and ETS are tied for fourth with 1-2 records, while the Taxi entry, 0-3, is last.

Midgets in Action. The Midget Baseball League, a Y.M.C.A. project that is steadily gaining in popularity, is in action six days a week on various fields. At the end of the season, an all-star game between the winning nine and best players on the other teams will be held, while a picnic for all boys and their parents is also being planned.

As of Monday, the Jefferson Road Dodgers were the only unbeaten team, boasting a 2-0 mark. Following in order were the Leigh Avenue Yankees, William Street Braves, Harrison Street Tigers, Jackson Street Phillies, Fenns Neck Indians, Jugtown Giants and Plainsboro Pirates.

Tom Perks were each credited with two of them and Charles Streater established the other.

Varner topped the 180-yard low hurdles in 21 seconds and the 120-yard high hurdles in 16.1. Thomas wrapped up the 220-yard dash in 22.5, broad jumped 21 feet, 5 inches and then tied for first in the high jump at 5-6.

Perks took the shot put with a toss of 51 feet, 3½ inches, and the discus with a mark of 139 feet, 10 inches. Streater's height in the pole vault was 11-6; other Princeton winners were Lucien Frohling in the 880 and Chase Rosner in the javelin. The Blue and White was favored to wallop Trenton Catholic Wednesday and to retain its state title Saturday at Montclair.

Tennis Dates Set. Dates for the annual community tennis tournaments (dependent on the weather) have been announced by C. Edward Christian, summer recreation supervisor. The first of them—junior boys' and junior girls' singles—will start June 16.

Other dates: men's singles, June 30; women's singles, July 7; men's doubles, July 14; mixed doubles, July 28. Entries may be made now at the Y.M.C.A., 120 John Street, or through any member of the tennis committee: Michael Kopliner, Paul Chesebro and Caryl Bigelow, Jr.

Matches will be played on the University Courts, under the direction of Jess Willard, assistant to Christian. Last year's champions were Charles Widman, junior boys; Ellen Kerney, junior girls; Thomas Whitin, men's singles; Mrs. Pepper Constable, women's singles; Caryl Bigelow and Stanley Smoyer, men's doubles; Donald Montgomery and Lydie McKinney, mixed doubles.

Short on Shorts? You never can have enough shorts, the Princeton climate being what it is. Try The Joan Shop, 63 Palmer Square West, where they come as long or as short as you like. Newest thing is an in-betweener, not so long as a Bermuda short, not so brief as a brief. In rayon linen for $2.98, with tape binding and four buttons on the side.

Just as new: tapered shorts that aren't quite so wide at the leg. In hounds-tooth check rayon for $2.98.

This is certainly Petticoat Year. The Joan Shop carries a white organdy petticoat with red polka dots and red binding. You wear it under a dress, needless to say, but be sure you wear it so it shows. What's the good of those red polka dots if you don't flash them as you polka?

Petticoat diverted us for a moment. Let's get back to play clothes. Bathing suits are in combinations at the Joan Shop. A chartreuse and white suit, with white terry jacket to go over it. Jacket has a shirt collar in the same fabric as the suit, buttons down the front and no sleeves. You can have it in black, too.

Here's a heavy chambray, almost like denim, in blue with white trim, boned and strapless. Comes in black nylon, too.

Loom-Togs assembles an ensemble. Yachting Blues in a full circle skirt with a broken white stripe on the blue, sleeveless shirt, shorts, either plain blue or blue with that stripe. Can't imagine anything better for the shore: that heavy chambray can take absolutely anything in the way of salt wind, sea spray and damp air. Buy a set, even if you haven't a yacht to your name.

Dresses at The Joan Shop follow an established policy: excellent lines, tiny price. Striking cottons, like the terra-cotta and white stripe, look like more than the price tag says. And blouses! Racks are full of low-cost blouses ($3.95 to $5.95) especially sleeveless ones in white, and boat-neckers that are a little bit peasanty but not too much so.

You a Cook? Any good cook (or not so good) would like the chopping board they have at Farr's, 138 Nassau. It's a hefty 12-by-18 inches in seasoned hard maple, with suction cups on the bottom to hold it down. You can even hang it over the edge of your counter and screw a food-chopper to it. For $4.95.

When you want a single cup of coffee, use a chrome-plated drip gadget that fits down over your cup and makes coffee just for you. Price is slightly fantastic: $2.95 each.

To leave the kitchen for the garden: you might give your favorite

Off the Cob. That corn you planted last month may be only a sprout, but there's corn in the market to eat while you're waiting and accessories to help you (as if anybody needed help, eating corn.) At The Flower Basket, 136 Nassau, you'll find a set of four shallow ceramic dishes about two inches across. You put melted butter in each, then pick up the small nylon brush with the handle like an ear of corn, and brush the melted butter onto your ear. (Ear of corn, if you're in doubt.) If the butter and that corn don't come out even, you put the dish back into the refrigerator to keep the butter, and take it out next time you have corn.

ful story, has much to attract the average moviegoer: color, romance, action and a typically lavish setting as it unfolds a story of adventure in revolutionary France. Janet Leigh, Stewart Granger, Eleanor Parker and Mel Ferrer are the principals responsible for good acting, with the spectacular duel between Mr. Ferrer and Mr. Granger highlighting the action. Unevenly paced but generally enjoyable.

THE GARDEN

Hong Kong (Fri.-Sat.) brings together a rag-tag adventurer (Ronald Reagan), a missionary (Rhonda Fleming) and a Chinese orphan (Danny Chang), who encounter a series of clashes with Communists and underworld operators as Mr. Reagan seeks to sell a valuable heirloom belonging to the child. There's little or nothing to recommend this hodge-podge of unimpressive melodrama.

The Well (Mon.-Wed.) is a somewhat unusual picture which blends two stories, one of a five-year old Negro girl who falls down a well, and another—based on her disappearance—of the need for improved race relations. A small midwestern town becomes a turmoil of emotion over the child's fate, with a riot threatening when it develops she was last seen in the company of a white man new to the community. Forcefully handled and bulwarked by a constructive approach to the problem.

Bugles in the Afternoon (Fri.-Sat.) mingles Indian fighting, including the doomed Custer expedition, with Technicolored scenery and romancing between Ray Milland and Helena Carter. But the western's main claim to fame—well-paced action—is missing in this picture, leaving a somewhat unsatisfactory impression. With Hugh Marlowe and Forrest Tucker.

time parking, $5 for blocking a driveway, $13 for failing to display 1952 plates and $25 for not having his license in his possession.

Others fined in court this week were William Ahrens, 218-C Harrison Street, leaving the scene of an accident, $25; Cornelius Cavanaugh, Kingston, careless driving, $15; Theodore Waring, Carter Road, and Robert Owen, State Road, speeding, $10 each.

Mrs. Laurette M Hoagland of Titusville and Mrs. Lillian Carter, 246 John Street, were each fined $30 on charges of disorderly conduct for fighting. Suspended jail sentences were also given them by Magistrate Chesebro.

Nassau Lodge No. 106, I.O.O.F., will hold a memorial service this Thursday night in its Witherspoon Street lodge rooms for members no longer living. Paul Scharf and Everett Satterthwait will represent the organization at the convention of the Grand Lodge to be held next Thursday, June 12, in Atlantic City.

The Odd Fellows' annual family picnic is planned for June 21 at the Squatters' Club grounds on Quaker Road. The following day, Miss Suzanne Rudy will leave for the United Nations Assembly in New York to spend six days there as the lodge's high school representative.

Mrs. Jerome Kurshan has been elected president of the Princeton Chapter of Senior Hadassah for the next 12 months. Other officers will be Mrs. T. H. Stix, first vice-president; Mrs. Leonard Hymerling, second vice-president; Mrs. Meyer Goldstein, recording secretary; Mrs. M. H. Greenblatt, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. B. Lampert, treasurer.

The Holy Name Society and Retreat Club of St. Paul's Parish will hold its annual picnic next Wednesday at 5 at the Squatters Club on Quaker Road. Patrick Coughlin is committee chairman.

The College Club's "Great Books Discussion Group" will meet Tuesday at 2 o'clock at the Public Library. Next year's reading list will be prepared and all those interested in joining the discussions in the fall are invited to attend.

Children from 4 to 14 are eligible for the Vacation Bible School which the Princeton Baptist Church at Penns Neck will run from June 23 to July 3, and should be registered by Monday. The committee in charge includes Mrs. George Heisserman, chairman; Mrs. Archer Vaughn, Mrs. Clarence Morris, Mrs. Cyril Davison, Mrs. Malcolm Oleson and the pastor, the Rev. Roland F. Chandler.

Princeton scouts will attend the annual dinner of George Washington Council, B.S.A., at the Hotel Hildebrecht, Trenton, next Thursday. The program has been arranged to pay tribute to the volunteer leaders who have made the boy scout movement the success that it is. Walter M. Riggs, former district commissioner of the Princeton area, is general chairman, while Fred M. Blaicher is a member of the dinner committee.

Dr. Leon C. Nurock, whose offices are at 6½ Chambers Street, was a delegate to the Central Atlantic Optometric Assembly in Atlantic City last weekend . . . the exhibition of paintings by Dudley Morris, instructor in art at the Lawrenceville School, will continue at Group Arts, 14 Spring Street, through next Thursday, June 12.

PERSONALIZED DELIVERIES

You might think that delivering fuel oil is a routine house-to-house job. Far from it. People are different, houses are different, and so are tanks. Probably no two deliveries in a day are exactly alike. By paying attention to the differences we find at each house, our Princeton Fuel Oil delivery service actually is personalized. You're not just a name in our file; we think of you as a person who wants his lawns, hedges, flower-beds and driveway respected at all times.
